

Wednesday.

My dear Griffiths,

Thanks for magazines.

They are not up to very much.

Hughans' letters on the Union & its position are good; and so are ^{his} ~~the~~ munimatic articles; but Holmes's waddling novels are simply absurd.

Tell me if I ought to use the Abacus (now being a Provincial Prior), and though honorary -

if so, is it imperative that it should have a long staff? Also, am I to consider that the illustration in the Statutes is drawn of full size?

Sincerely yours

Richard Wood
