Our good friend R. W. Charles Hollander, District Deputy Grand Master of the Sixth Masonic District of Manhattan, will be with us on this evening and will officially greet the Grand Lecturer.

R. W. Pro. Meacham invites the brethren on the side lines to ask any questions relative to the work of the evening on which they would like enlightenment. I assure you if you attend you will spend an evening that will be replete with interest and pleasure.

Cordially and fraternally yours,

SIGMUND SCHNARCH.

THE CHRONICLER

This is the last time that the Chronicler shall record, "The brethren were pleasantly surprised by, etc."

Those who have attended the Communications of this year, are well acquainted with the surprises that have featured every meeting—that by this time they are surprises no longer, but have become rather a matter of course and the to-be-expected.

At the very opening, there were a great number of brethren on either side of the Lodge Room—and by the time the Austin Hall McGregor Highlanders were ready to take charge of the raising of the newly made brethren, our Stewards found it necessary to bring in many extra chairs.

The very impressive entrance of the Scotch Team, with the National flag and the colors of New Jersey unfurled, carried at its head, by the two standard bearers—the bag pipe sending out its shrill notes to the air—the marching of the team, with its strikingly singular and individual uniforms—sent a thrill through every onlooker causing them all to give vent to spontaneous and prolonged applause.

And in what a unique and original manner did these brethren perform! Even repetition could not dispel the eagerness to grasp every uttered word—and when they had concluded with their own interesting interpretation of the Temple Drama—a well earned and vociferous outburst of applause greeted our visitors.

The Historical Lecture was delivered by R. W. Bro. Colin M. McLean in a very interesting manner and was very well received.

There is no need to waste time lamenting over the meetings you may have missed—there is enough nourishment, refreshment and joy, awaiting you in our coming communications.

Our regular pre-meeting GET TOGETHER DINNER CLUB will meet in the Grand Street Boys Club House dining room on 55th Street at Six o'clock. Come down, let's eat together.

The dinner tendered to the District Deputy Grand Master and Staff Officers of 1930 by the Sixth Masonic District Association of Manhattan will be held at The Hotel Astor, on April 30th, 1930, at 7 P. M.

WHICH IS CORRECT?

The dues is overdue, or the dues are overdue. Neither is right because dues should be paid promptly in January of each year and never be overdue. If you haven't paid yours for 1930 as yet, send in your check now; and gladden the heart of our good secretary Abe Frank.

OFFICIAL VISITATION OF NIGHT WORSHIPFUL CHARLES HOLLENDER

District Deputy Grand Master of the Sixth Masonic District

Saturday, March 8th—Roome—Masonic Hall.

Tuesday, March 12th—Composite—Masonic Hall

Brethren will kindly meet the Master in the ante-room of these Lodges at 8:30 P. M.
