MAP of MASONIC MEETING LOCATIONS

Province of Gloucestershire

INTRODUCTION

This collection of data regarding the Lodges in the Province of Gloucestershire has been put together at the suggestion of the Provincial Grand Secretary, WBro R.N. Gillett. During my year as Provincial Junior Grand Warden, nearly coinciding as it has done with my year as Eminent Preceptor of the Gloucester Preceptory of St Nicholas, No. 506, Order of the Temple, I have travelled to every Lodge location in the Province. I have been able to amass a large amount of information about their whereabouts, road signing and car parking amongst other details, and this document is the result. It is hoped that this will be a useful addition to the reference section on Gloucestershire Masonic locations in the Freemasons' Year-Book for the Province of Gloucestershire.

A user-friendly guide to the Lodges in every town should help the Brethren at all levels to travel around the Province, and make fraternal visits to Lodges other than their own. Visiting is an essential - and absorbing - aspect of Freemasonry, and making it easier for a stranger to find the Lodge should encourage Brethren to venture out more often. They are always made welcome at Lodges where they are not known - provided they can prove themselves - and, of course, if they wish to dine, that they have given the required few days' notice. A phone call to the Secretary - name and address in the Provincial Freemasons' Year-Book - will usually suffice.

A rich variety of Masonic experience awaits those who visit other Lodges. It is always interesting, for instance, to see how arrangements for displaying the Tracing Boards in the Lodge room differ; where there are large columns with the celestial and terrestrial globes on top; complications arising because of where the door is placed and the consequences for the Inner Guard; even novel schemes for evacuation in the event of fire giving food for thought; and so on.

Where in the Province can you see stabbing marks on the underside of the rather low oak mediaeval roof beams - from over-enthusiastic use of the sword in countless Knight Templar ceremonies?

Elsewhere, gentle cooing of the doves in the roof on a summer evening, and the inspiring Ritual both being brought suddenly to a halt by overwhelming sirens as fire engines scream round two sides of the building .....

Then again, Phantom jets 200 feet overhead making the roof rattle as they aim directly for the Abbey - only a quarter of a second away for them.

The quick-witted may also spot remarks in Toast Responses about the work "upstairs", or "downstairs", when, in truth, it is all on the same level - but habits die hard.

Where do they have to demolish the ceremonial room layout before we can sit down to eat?

Answers to these and a thousand other questions and familiarities can be found by travelling to and visiting the seventeen different Masonic centre locations in the Province - a great variety of meeting places ranging from modern conversions to historic purpose-built lodge buildings, from hotels to country clubs. And it is all very much worth the effort.

As uniform a format as possible has been adopted for each of the locations in this guide. Photos of the Lodge building and/or the approach to it are given; the position of each photo (dot in a circle) and view direction (arrow) is shown on the accompanying sketch map of the town. A paragraph is given for most photos describing the subject. Descriptive paragraphs of how to get to the Masonic Hall by car, or a nearby car park are given where appropriate. The Masonic Hall address and telephone number appear, and lists of all the Orders meeting at the centre are given.

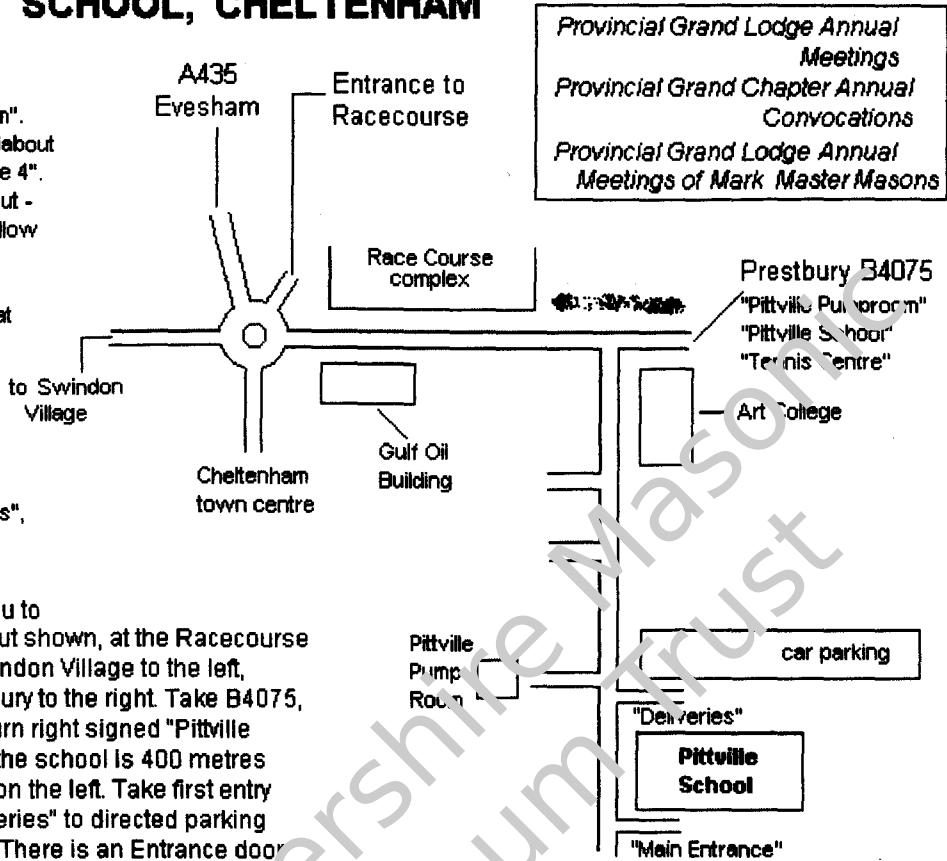

When read in conjunction with the blue year-book, this should give all the information necessary to contact the Secretary beforehand - and then to get there easily and conveniently. I hope you will find it easier to enjoy your fraternal visiting using this guide.

PITTVILLE SCHOOL, CHELTENHAM

From Junction 11, M5, take "A40 Cheltenham". Straight dual carriageway, one mile to roundabout "A40 Cheltenham". Straight on - "Racecourse 4". Dual carriageway, half mile, left at roundabout - AA sign "Races", and "Swindon Village". Follow "Through Traffic" round Coronation Square, straight on at next roundabout (one mile) - "Races" and "Swindon Village". Straight on at double mini-roundabout - "Races". Quarter mile - turn right - "Races" - up Swindon Lane - railway level crossing only 100 metres up this road. One mile to Race Course roundabout on the sketch.

If in Cheltenham town, follow signs to "Races", and "A435 Evesham".

This brings you to the roundabout shown, at the Racecourse entrance, Swindon Village to the left, B4075 Prestbury to the right. Take B4075, 400 metres turn right signed "Pittville School", and the school is 400 metres down the hill on the left. Take first entry signed "Deliveries" to directed parking on the grass. There is an Entrance door on that side of the building.

GLOUCESTER CATHEDRAL

Gloucester Cathedral, venue for the annual Church Service for the Province of Gloucestershire, is well signed from the ring road. Parking is available in the grounds, but nearby on-street overflow car parking is possible without restriction on a Sunday. The County Council car parks are vacant at the weekend, and can be seen from Westgate Street, near to where the Council offices span a road nearby.

GLOUCESTER MASONIC HALL

For Orders meeting at Gloucester, see Page 7

From all other directions, take outer Ring Road for A38 to Tewkesbury/Worcester. At this roundabout, turn opposite way, into "City Centre". Under bridge, over traffic light junction, right at mini roundabout, across traffic lights at "The Cross" - road access this is restricted - and Longsmith Street is on the right.

NB - at some time in the future, it is proposed to pedestrianise ALL streets at "The Cross". Until this happens, it is not known whether the status will be "Except for Access", as is the case for access to the Cathedral, in Westgate Street, already pedestrians only - "Except for Access".

Address - Masonic Hall,

Cheltenham - Directions

North Place car park has entrances/exits on both the long sides. The road on the Holy Trinity Church side is one-way northbound (towards Evesham).

From Tewkesbury - turn left off the short dual carriageway and enter the long narrow car park (see photo no.1) with the church close by. The large car park (former bus station) closes early evening.

From Evesham - traffic lights with "NO ENTRY" straight ahead - turn right, then left brings you alongside North Place car park on your LEFT.

From all other directions - join the one-way Inner Ring Road.
(following signs to "Town Centre").

Then "A435 Evesham", then follow "Car Parks" described as "Portland Street", "North Place" or "Short Stay". Look out for that with Holy Trinity Church along one side.
